Rev. J. T. Draper of Salt Lick, will preach at the Christian church here, on the third Sunday in this month at eleven o'clock. Bro. Draper has been filling pulpits over the county for a long time, and his sermons are always worth while. The public is cordially invited to hear him.

Unmarried people take notice. A bill to regulate the issuance of marriage license by requiring applications to be filed thirty days before the issuance of the license is now pending in legislature. The thirty days gives the parties ample time to look before they leap.

Claude Kenneth, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lynn, of Roaring river died Wednesday, March 2nd, of pus-pneumonia, caused by an attack of tonsilitis. The little fellow, age 2 year, had been sick about month. The remains were entered in the Overton graveyard Thursday. Funeral service was conducted by Bro. W. M. Dycus.

Sam York who has been in California for the past fifteen years arrived in Gainesboro Saturday for a visit with his father, Bill York, and other relatives here. He has spent the most of this time working in the oilfields of California where he became an efficient driller. For the past nine months he has been in old Mexico, near Tampico, where he has been holding a position as driller for the Penn Mex Fuel Company. Sam looks about the same, with the exception of a few gray hairs. He expects to remain a month or six weeks. In speaking of the Mexicans, he says there is only one way to get along with them, and that is by having nothing to do with any of them.
